OUR PRINCIPAL

JOSEPH R. ROGERS

We shared in the general expression of pleasure as Mr. Joseph R. Rogers assumed his new office--Principal of Ipswich High School--since we had been fortunate to have been under his supervision when he served as Principal of the Ipswich Junior High School.

With his calm, albeit firm, disposition he has guided us along our way and has won the respect and admiration of the entire student body.

We, the Class of 1961, are confident that future classes of Ipswich High School will appreciate, as we have, his interest and efforts on their behalf.

We wish Mr. Rogers many more years of satisfying associations with the youth of Ipswich.

DEDICATION

MRS. MARY L. NORTON

We, the Class of 1961, proudly dedicate our yearbook to Mrs. Norton whose unselfish aid and guidance has brightened the long, often dark, road to the successful completion of our high school career.

In awe at her familiarity with so many fields of knowledge, we deem her "the wisest friend we have," though adult wisdom and adolescent friendship may seem odd companions.

The experience of having had Mrs. Norton as our English teacher for two years has taught us that under the stern, serious mien of the classroom teacher lies a maternal solicitude for our welfare.

We are happy to have this opportunity to express our affection and appreciation.

FEATURES

R. BAKER

At last the time has come--unbelievable though it seemed four years ago when we entered Ipswich High School, on September 9, 1957, as Freshmen.

How conscientiously we memorized our locker combinations; but, in spite of all our efforts, it was nearly impossible to open the lockers.

Being Freshmen was exciting. Class officers were elected and the boys received the majority of executive offices: William Hughes, President; Paul Frydrych, Vice-President; Thomas Flynn, Treasurer. Cynthia Wass was elected Class Secretary.

A favorite teacher was Mrs. Christensen of English I. Memorable incidents were Tom Flynn executing a cheer, and Julie throwing paper airplanes! Remember how disappointed Joanie Sullivan was when she found that the Glee Club was for girls only? Can we ever forget the day demure, little Susie Davis came to school and announced that henceforth she was to be addressed as "Moose"!

"The Onions in the Stew" provided an opportunity for a display of the "great" talent of our classmates, as well as almost a hundred dollars for our scholarship fund.

As we finally got into the swing of high school life, signalled by the discarding of our worn, strained schedule cards, we found it was time for our summer vacation. How we swaggered out of school - little realizing that the challenges of that first year were nothing to those of the next three years.

The second chapter in our class history began in September of 1958 when we returned to I.H.S. as Sophomores. Our class leaders were chosen soon afterwards: William Hughes, President; Donna Burnham, Vice-President; Susan Davis, Treasurer; and Cynthia Wass, Secretary.

That year we lost Betsy Franklin to St. Johnsbury Academy, Vermont, and Donna Drowne to Christian High School in Cambridge; and we welcomed Claudette Fournier from Newport, Vermont.

Latin II and French I were favorite topics of conversation. We will never forget Garry Cutler's "livid" translations in Latin II.

Phil Howard and Tom Scahill formed a singing group, and the corridors literally rang with the sound of joyful, young men's voices serenading anyone who ventured near.

The Roman banquet put on by the Latin Club was a howling success. Everyone appeared in togas (culled from mother's linen closets). How our eyes popped when Miss Allen showed that she was a true Roman -- by reclining on the table!

Another high point in our Sophomore year was the Valentine Hop with Dan Donovan as Disc Jockey and Freddie Cannon as guest star. We didn't dream then that the latter would be a famous recording star, nor that we'd see him on television.

CLASS HISTORY

This was the year Helen Achramowicz, Becky Baker, Barb Gauthier, Gail Clement, and Pauline Poirier initiated an early swimming season. Again as the year came to a close, with yelps of joy we scattered to our various summer-time pre-occupations.

Tanned and rested, we eagerly returned to I.H.S. for another adventuresome year. In our class elections William Hughes was again elected President; David Rogers, Vice-President; Ann Miller, Treasurer; and Cynthia Wass, again our Secretary.

We were sorry to lose some of our classmates to other schools: Anne Peters, Oak Grove School; Jeannette Philpott, Walnut Hill; Elyse Brocklebank, Stratham; Dick Hennessey, Berwick Academy. In their places came Betsy Franklin, Peter Donaher, Lennie and Janet Parker, and Bob Bodwell.

Our school days were brightened by Mr. Sine's Chemistry classes, and the exciting football rallies put on by Mr. Antognoni. I'm sure none of us will forget our U. S. History classes. After much ado, we were assigned a new history teacher, Mr. Blake, whose calm and genial air brought us back to normalcy.

The Driver Ed. program really boomed! It was such a success that, by the end of the year, everyone had his driver's license, except Garry and Betsy!

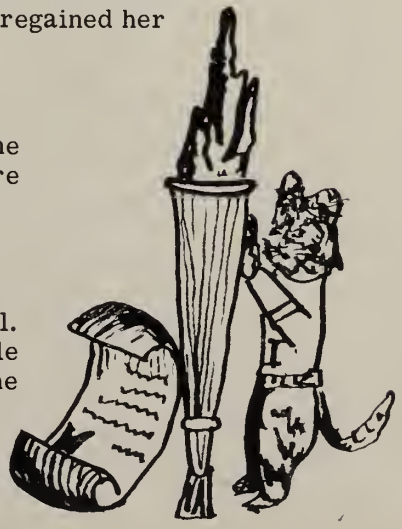
JoAnn Bennett and Cynthia Wass surprised us all by having their picture on the front page of the Boston Traveler as commuters from Ipswich to Boston. The day our class rings arrived shone almost as brightly as the rings themselves. We proudly flashed our new possessions at every opportunity. The Minstrel Show presented by the Junior Recreation Committee brought out the talent of many classmates. Art and George stole the show in the "Mammy" roles.

The Junior Prom, May 20, was a dreamy success. The sight of girls beautiful in stunning gowns, and boys handsome in their white coats took everyone's breath away. Bill Clapp was especially noteworthy as the Grand March went off without a flaw, even though Bob Bodwell claimed he couldn't tell his right foot from his left.

One of our favorite classmates, Susie Davis, became ill and missed most of the last half of the year; fortunately, she has since regained her health.

College Boards were taken by many brave souls. Pauline had quite an experience on the way to the test. The exams were brain-racking, but our candidates did very well.

The Mardi-Gras Ball was a new experience, enjoyed by all. Phil Howard and JoAnn Bennett made a handsome "royal" couple as king and queen. John Kelly tickled us all by coming to the dance as a mouse.



CLASS HISTORY

The final highlight of our Junior year was the Induction of members into the National Honor Society. Those tapped from our ranks were Joanne Blunda, Marcia Michon, Pauline Poirier, Julie Ryan, Bill Hughes, and Paul Frydrych.

Paul Frydrych and Bill Hughes were Boys' State delegates from Ipswich. After his election to a state office, Bill was chosen one of the two representatives from Massachusetts to Boys' Nation in Washington, D. C.

Then, with sighs of relief, we again left the halls of I.H.S. to rest for our starring role as Seniors, the "upper crust" of a high school student body.

The final chapter of our class history opened with a flourish, - our class elections, patterned after those on the national level. After vigorous campaign speeches, the displaying of colorful placards, and much undercover work, the results were announced: Phil Howard, President; Bill Clapp, Vice President; Cynthia Wass, Secretary; and Ann Miller, Treasurer.

Betsy Franklin left us again, this time for St. Ann's School in Arlington. The pitter-patter of many fair maids' hearts quickened after meeting our new classmate, David Cole, a Southern lad. Jane Ricker, from Iowa, also complemented our class, but for too short a time.

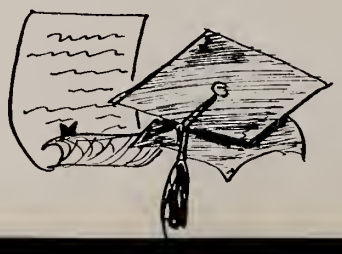
We were happy to greet Mr. Rogers, our friend since the "Medieval Years" of the seventh and eighth grades, as the new Principal of the High School. The girls were pleased to meet Miss Gibbons, the new gym teacher, although her rules for showers caused much apprehension. French III was taught by Mr. Smith for the first half of the year. His classes were so thrilling that Brian Grant skipped French II just to be a part of them!

Congratulations this year went to Bill Hughes (Good Government Representative), Julie Ryan (the D.A.R.'s Good Citizen Award), Joanne Mansfield (the Betty Crocker Homemaker Award), John Kelly (the Hoffman Award), Art Solomonides (Most Valuable - and Popular - Football Player Awards).

John Adams formed a taxi service for six senior girls. After several calamities (e.g., running out of gas, dropping the transmission, and finding egg in the fuel pump), the service was discontinued, a total loss!

In our Senior year, our fondest dream as Freshmen was realized. We found big lockers lining both sides of the corridor, from end to end. The extra-ordinary part was that they had no combinations!

Yes, our years at I.H.S. were too few, and time passed too fast, but the memories and experiences we managed to gather will never be forgotten. As we leave, after graduation, we will take with us a little bit of every happy hour that we have spent together, as well as with some wonderful teachers and pleasant associates. With this, I close the final chapter in our book of high school life. We are grateful for the attention, guidance, and good wishes we have received, and would like to express our appreciation to all.



CLASS WILL

D. ROGERS - A. MILLER

We, the members of the Class of 1961 of Ipswich High School in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, do here state that this is our last will and testament. After the payment of our just debts, our executors are instructed to direct the following bequests to those listed below.

To David Wallace - His brother's ability on the basketball court.
To Jean Weaver - A 'pony express' to Danvers.
To Willard Wendt - Spot remover for his freckles.
To Douglas Wood - Three lessons on "school made easy."
To Susan Wood - An autograph book filled with the names of those who wish her well.

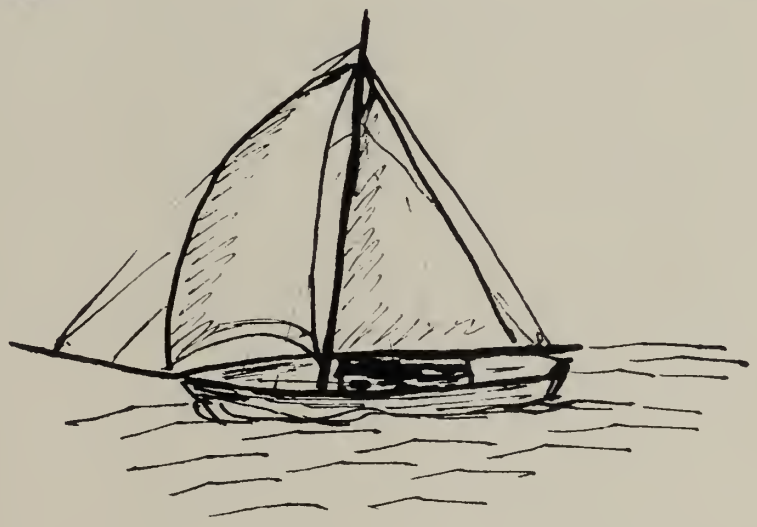
Given this day, June 14, 1961, by us, the representatives of the out-going Senior Class of 1961. who, in the name and by the authority of the good people of the class, solemnly publish this instrument and, with a firm reliance in Divine Providence, mutually pledging one another, hereby set our seal.

President: PHILIP HOWARD

Vice-President: WILLIAM CLAPP

Secretary: CYNTHIA WASS

Treasurer: ANN MILLER



CLASS PROPHECY

D. ORSINI - W. CLAPP

Time: 1989 Place: The Capitol, Washington, D.C.

Scene: Inauguration Day. Donna Orsini is interviewing Bill Clapp, newly elected Vice-President, about the plans of the new administration headed by Phil Howard as President.

DONNA: "I am lucky to be the only reporter getting a first-hand inside story. This is the first Inauguration I've had to cover while working for Paul Sheppard, Editor of the New York Times."

BILL: "I'm glad to learn that Paul has done so well. I met him at the party for the out-going President Bill Hughes and his Vice-President Dave Rogers, who have done an excellent job meeting the problems of the complex American society and government."

CLASS PROPHECY

DONNA: "Have you kept in touch with many of our former classmates in Ipswich?"

BILL: "A few. President-elect Howard, who has been visiting Cuba, will be flown in today by plane especially chartered from Mark Comeau who owns the only existing service between the U. S. and Cuba. Phil will have a chance to renew old acquaintances with Cynthia Wass, the stewardess."

DONNA: "Oh, yes, I talked with Cynthia last year when I interviewed Roger Terry, now a famous aircraft designer, before he took off for Cuba. The airlines have attracted several of our old friends. Nancy Robishaw, a flight nurse, is credited with saving the life of Bill Warner, a passenger on the Floating Breeze (you know Linda LaBrie's company) when Denis Brennan, the pilot, was forced to crash land in Bill Seifred's flower garden."

BILL: "So Bill has a flower garden. . . I always thought his gentle voice and quiet manner hid the soul of an artist. Speaking of artists . . . did you know that Florence Hazen has been commissioned to do the President's portrait? In fact, Phil has been lucky that so many of his Ipswich friends have done very well in their respective professions. The problems connected with refurnishing the White House are being handled exclusively by JoAnn Bennett and Janet Parker, recent graduates of the Beat School of Interior Design, owned by Joanne Blunda."

DONNA: "Yes, I heard, also, that the James Moon Construction Company is building a new wing to house an indoor miniature golf course, that Ronnie Tetreault will be the official White House greeter, that Loran Saulnier will head the corps of White House guards, that Kevin Campbell will take over as private chauffeur to the First Lady who will be dressed in the latest Marcia Michon designs."

BILL: "Ipswich folk will be glad to know that there is a new Cabinet position - Secretary of the President's Golf Cart, headed by Charles Price whose Undersecretary, and chief mechanic, is Brian Pelletier."

DONNA: "In my work as Roving Reporter I met three more I.H.S. grads who are now connected with the government: Bob Bodwell, Head of the Armed Forces, Lenny Parker and Bob Provost. Lenny and Bob Provost had been decorated, for heroic action, with the Gold Medal for Endurance. It seems they made history by serving the longest K.P. duty on record."

BILL: "Good for them! Did you know that I have hired Donna Burnham to be my private secretary?"

DONNA: "Her experience in the High School office certainly came in handy. I understand that Ann Miller's experience as Class Treasurer was a factor in her being chosen for the Treasury Department."

BILL: "Your reference to the school reminds me of the many years I've been away from Ipswich. Have many of our class prospered at home?"

DONNA: "I'm glad you asked, Bill. I visited in Ipswich a few weeks ago and was able to talk to many including Phil von Suck, who is Librarian now and putting to good use his psychology degree in handling the youth of Ipswich . . . I'm quite sure we weren't so obstreperous when we were young."

BILL: "I must agree with you. When I see the actions of the younger generation today I shudder for the future of our country."

DONNA: "You remember Alvery Marriott's interest in the outdoors: he is a famous trapper now, and has published his first book called Animals That Got Away. Jim Carter and his colleagues, Donaher and Tarr, have been very successful in the undertaking business after developing a new embalming fluid called 'In by Five, Out by Nine.' His time schedule gives him plenty of time to gab with Arline Boudreau, Manager of Woolworth's, and Edna Napier, Supervisor in charge of the Button counter."

CLASS PROPHECY

BILL: "I suppose they have their fingers on the pulse of Ipswich industry. Did more of our classmates settle in Ipswich?"

DONNA: "Well, Susan de Paola, Arlene Richard, and Jackie Bridge said those fatal words 'I do' and, because their twenty-eight children practically make up a a class, Ipswich has finally built a new school!"

BILL: "I knew our class would come through for the students. What other earth-shaking events have transpired in the home town?"

DONNA: "It was inevitable that George Nikas would take over the Depot Spa and Pool Room, but he has installed blue carpeting, wall to wall, pale yellow pool tables, chairs upholstered in coral damask, and a sumptuous children's room supervised by Kerry Pearson. John Player, who gained most of his skill there, has become the World Champion Pool Player and, when not on tour, gives lessons for the Recreation Department."

BILL: "Yes, pool and billiards have caught up to bowling in social status."

DONNA: "Robert van Twuyver is another business man at home . . . he owns Dad's Delightful Do-Nut Shop and because of the expert advice of his cook, Margaret Barclay, and manager, Sharon Holda, his fame is widespread."

BILL: "Your mention of fame reminded me of Tom Scahill. I met him at the Governor's Convention in Florida and was pleased to know that Massachusetts was so well represented by Tom. In addition, he told me that he had been able to help Paul Clancy get a good job as head of a highway division which regulates all speed laws of the state, and Joey Barowy get a license for his Lazy U Night Club. The latter took a bit of political finagling as Joey has so many branch clubs that Ed Girard's trucking company is kept busy night and day transporting roulette wheels."

DONNA: "Yes, their work takes them away from Ipswich often. John Dambra has a state job, too. . . Head of the Waiting List at the State Unemployment Office. Nancy Poor is his secretary. They were able to find an opening in the Congo for Rev. David Cole and his two assistants, Helen Achramowicz and Haroldine Wright who do a good job teaching gym team techniques."

BILL: "Oh, yes, I remember hearing about that when Joan Sullivan requested her visa. She was graduated from Harvard with honors and is serving in Bombay. I understand that she is a very popular teacher because of the way she handles the natives."

DONNA: "We could expect that from our Class Boyologist. The class produced other teachers. Elaine Bokron, who had such a way with words, has a private Speech Salon for Shy Siblings. Her assistant is Betty Bobola, and George Karras handles the publicity for her. Fred Cowles has taken over Arthur Murray's clientele. His Mambo, Samba, Rumba Dance Studios in Chile and Alaska are managed by Norma MacLeod and Diane Jones."

BILL: "We had a lot of good dancers in our class, didn't we? The latest to gain world-wide fame is Brian Grant. Since he won the Highland Fling Award he has been living in Scotland. Occasionally he meets another ex-patriate, Julie Ryan, who is Eire's Ambassador to Scotland."

DONNA: "Then they'll be soon seeing Tom Flynn. Tom has decided that Americans don't understand philanthropists - especially those who give away a million dollars a year - and will live in Eire where taxes are low anyway."

BILL: "They ought to plan a reunion with Mae-Ellen Hayes and Christine Sotiropoulos (with the U. S. Olympic Basketball Team), Bernadette Saroka and Marilyn Woods (Manager and Trainer of the Team), and Pauline Poirier who is making her semi-annual visit to her couturier in Paris."

CLASS PROPHECY

DONNA: "I think Phil Kopec is somewhere in Europe, too, and will be our star entry for the Decathlon at the Olympic Games, while Don Bayley is a favorite for the Grand Prize Paris-Rome race.

BILL: "I read Karen Smyth's column 'Tell Us the Truth' and am surprised how easy it is to keep my finger on the travels of our international playboy, Richie Whynock, and his counterpart, Carole Fitz."

DONNA: "Oh, then you must have read the gossip about Rocky Forrest and Janetta. Of course, Karen is probably the only columnist who knows that the great screen star Rocky went to school with Janetta, or Janet Trask as we knew her. Paul Soffron suggested the single name Janetta so he could publicize the 'new discovery' in the promotion of his picture 'Hercules Rises Again'."

BILL: "It is odd that so many of the class finally collaborated in such varied fields. The newest duo is John Adams and Barb Gauthier. He tastes for American Tobacco Company and she tests his reactions. I know that Barb was interested in becoming a nurse, but I wonder how John ever got into that field!"

DONNA: "Now that you mention the duet idea, I can think of a few still in Ipswich. John Boylan and Caralee Colburn have formed a chain of Good-Will Drug Stores; Susan Davis is Chief Mathematician at the Kreismanis Weather Bureau where both Susie and John are engaged in trying to determine the number of snowflakes that have fallen since 1961; Leon Sheppard is a Special Officer at Barbara Brockelbank's Finishing School for Blonde Bombshells; Ed Stevens, Mu. M., is choir director in the Rev. Garrett Cutler's parish; and Robert Greenleaf plays a terrific 'straight-man' in Lynda Ewing's comedy act."

BILL: "I'm glad some of the class is sticking together whether at home or abroad. Their high school team-work has paid off for Paul Frydrych and Art Solomonides, both stars with the Boston Celtics, and John Kelly who coaches the team."

DONNA: "This has been quite an interview, Bill. I haven't elicited much information about the in-coming administration, but I certainly enjoyed reminiscing with you. We've covered so many members of the class it is difficult to be sure we have remembered all."

BILL: "Well, we have a few other classmates who are playing an important role in this Inauguration. Frances Ball will lead the ceremony with the Salute to the Flag; Arlene Smith will sing the National Anthem; President Howard will read the inaugural address written for him by Becky Baker; Chief Justice Robert Chambers will administer the oath of office; dinner arrangements will be in the capable hands of Food Expert Joanne Mansfield; and dance arrangements will be taken care of by Judy Comeau."

DONNA: "What talent we have among our class! Of course the top band in the land, Ralph Barnstead's Custom Thirteen, will provide appropriate music. I'm glad to know that Jane Stone and Gail Clement will furnish the hot and cool vocals."

BILL: "We shouldn't forget those important people behind-the-scene, the cooks. Cynthia Price commands practically an army of food specialists and the 'piece de resistance' will be the creation of Betty Clogston and Rosemary Clements - a six hundred pound, ten-layer cake artistically decorated by these wizards with the frosting tube."

DONNA: "Gosh, Bill, it's almost time for the ceremony to begin. Although I didn't get much political information for my paper, I'm sure Paul will forget his editorial work when he reads my news about the Class of 1961.

GIFTS TO THE BOYS

KAREN SMYTH
MAE-ELLEN HAYES

On one bright and sunny day we had planned to make our way
To the Magic Gardens -- for beauty is there among the trees in the fresh, cool air.

As we walked along the bank of the stream we espied a canoe -- its paddles agleam;
It moved in to shore with hardly a sound, and in it the gifts for our boys we found.

J. ADAMS
To John Adams who, we feel,
Doesn't exactly meet the wheel,
We give this pillow so he may sit
To see the road just a little bit.

J. BAROWY
To keep Joe's car still running,
Despite its venerable age,
To prevent its falling all apart,
We have this jar of sticky LePage.

R. BODWELL
Bobby transports every friend
And his Volks's the living end;
So there'll be room for all of us,
We'll attach this yellow trailer-bus.

D. BRENNAN
Our Denis is an independent lad,
For him we have a copy of "Mad";
You'll agree Neuman's counterpart
Is our Denis, a menace in his go-cart.

J. CARTER
To Jim, who is a wonderful guy,
Although we think he's rather shy,
And seldom makes very much noise,
We give a couple of bang-up toys.

P. CLANCY
To Paul whose little car is green,
We give this bottle of "Mr. Clean,"
To keep it always shining bright
So it will be a pleasant sight.

R. BARNSTEAD
Ralph has plenty of rhythm,
And he doesn't keep it mum;
So he can beat to his heart's content,
We give him this little drum.

D. BAYLEY
To Donny Bayley, these vitamin pills
Will furnish get-up-and-go,
For him as he climbs o'er the hills,
For his car at the race-way shows.

J. BOYLAN
For John Boylan, a nut cracker
Made from the best of lead;
Remember its to crack your jokes
And not to crack your head.

K. CAMPBELL
Kevin keeps his car shiny bright,
And around the corners it squeals;
We give, to help him stay upright,
This set of learner's wheels.

R. CHAMBERS
To Bob who often can be seen
In Goodhue's store, keeping it clean,
Goes this gift we know he'll adore,
A liquid detergent for washing the floor.

W. CLAPP
Here's to Bill, our most handsome boy,
Of his beauty he must take care;
This handy cake of Ivory soap
Will preserve his skin so fair.

GIFTS TO THE BOYS

D. COLE
A minister David hopes to be,
We'd like to help as you will see,
For we give him a book to help teach
The many lessons he will preach.

F. COWLES
To Fred, who really loves to dance,
We give this doll, on the chance
That should he lack a real live girl,
He can give the doll a whirl.

J. DAMBRA
To Johnny-on-the-spot
We give this old dilapidated pot;
If you can't be a perfect cook,
At least pretend to eat the gook.

T. FLYNN
Tom, who's famous for his blushes,
Would like to hide those blood rushes;
This bag of flour may stem the tide
If it is often and skillfully applied.

P. FRYDRYCH
Paul, who's used to a card of "A's,"
Excels us all -- in many ways:
These "F's" we give in fun, you know,
How else could his marks be low?

B. GRANT
Brian is one of our very late sleepers
And finds it hard to open his peepers:
For such a perennial sleepy head
We have, of course, -- a little bed.

P. HOWARD
Partying Phil our pleasure enhances,
His clever gyrations win many glances,
For this dancer as smooth as can be
A platter of music fits him to a "T".

G. KARRAS
George plays in the high school band,
At games and concerts about the land;
This gift of a foreign car
Will carry him both near and far.

P. KOPEC
A stop sign for Phil who drives very fast;
The more slowly he goes, the longer he'll last:
If he slows only at this sign,
More will be lost than a few minutes' time.

M. COMEAU
Mark is our class lover, so
A gift of sturdy twine
Will keep him close to Cynnie,
Two happy ones combine.

G. CUTLER
G. C.'s acting was such a sensation
Hollywood should be his destination;
A one-way ticket will get him there,
An Oscar, we hope, will be his share.

P. DONAHER
To Pete we give this little sack
To save his coins for a Cadillac;
If he gets one another way,
He can use the coins for a rainy day.

R. FORREST
Since Rocky is a ladies' man,
Here is a doll, an ardent fan,
To carry with you against the time
The real ones don't fall for your line.

E. GIRARD
To Ed, who wrestles for I.H.S.,
And, in that, always does his best,
We give this trophy, nice tho' small,
To keep him mindful of us all.

R. GREENLEAF
For Bob, who we know loves to cook,
And does it well without a book,
We give this deed to a restaurant,
To prepare the meals customers want.

W. HUGHES
Bill's undecided just what to do
About a career for his life through;
Whether in medicine, law, or business,
This ladder will aid his climb to success.

J. KELLY
For John, a big boy all around,
Good-natured, too, we've always found,
This "Tubby" comic seemed just right,
To recall his size, wit, and might.

J. KREISMANIS
To John we give this Model T,
Just crank to start, don't need a key:
Your Ford's no Caddy, but who cares,
The driver will draw the feminine stares.

A. MARRIOTT
Besides a knack for selling
Alvery has a yen to cook:
To him we give this apron
And a very useful book.

J. MOON
Jim's the captain of our team
And keeps the boys on the beam,
So he can see the field, to run,
We promise a brightly shining sun.

G. NIKAS
For George we have this handsome gavel
To take along on world-wide travel;
George is bound to be a judge --
A judge - of girls? of cars? of fudge?

B. PELLETIER
At a gas station Brian toils,
Often covered with grease and oils,
This long-handled iron tool
Will come in handy after school.

C. PRICE
Charlie's Station wagon is quite rare,
Because of its top - it isn't there;
Here's a canvas: when it rains outside
It will provide a good place to hide.

D. ROGERS
To David, who, we all agree,
Loves his work at the A & P,
Goes this little grocery store
So he can work a little more.

T. SCAHILL
Tommy's a politician by nature,
Destined to reach state legislature;
A soap box then will serve him well,
When his opponents start to yell.

L. SHEPPARD
To Leon who's had troubles galore
With transmissions - he's dropped four,
We give a supply of them for his car
Hoping they'll help to carry him far.

L. PARKER
Any girl who is able to knit
With Lenny would make a hit:
Until he finds a capable girl,
These needles will help him knit and purl.

J. PLAYER
John spends quite a bit of his time
Down in the town pool hall;
He'll win many more of his games
With this magic eight-ball.

R. PROVOST
Robert Provost just loves his car,
Which for a boy is not bizarre:
We think that he'll appreciate
A Thunderbird that's feather-weight.

L. SAULNIER
Our Buddy has begun to shave
But just can't make his beard behave;
To him we give this shaving kit
So he will always look neat and fit.

W. SEIFRED
Billy's car with its colors bright,
Assails our eyes when in sight;
Lest it, perchance, need more paint,
"Use this black" is our plaint.

P. SHEPPARD
Paul's clothes are all the rage -
They'd be a sensation in any age;
This tie, we hardly need to mention,
Will attract more and more attention.

GIFTS TO THE BOYS

P. SOFFRON
To Paul we give this flag,
A brilliant shade of red,
So when he's hunting rabbits
He won't get shot instead.

E. STEVENS
A mighty wrestler is our Ed,
He uses strength as well as his head,
This large mat should be good for him
As many more contests he should win.

R. TERRY
Roger fills the hall with giggles
As he fidgets, talks, and wiggles;
To him we give this comic book
In which, we hope, he'll quietly look.

R. VAN TWUYVER
To Bob who is a hot rod fan,
Tho for a while his car ne'er ran,
We give this bolt for security,
So his motor always there will be.

W. WARNER
Bill spends much time at the K & G,
Hoping that he will some day be
An All-Star on a television show -
Here is the money so you can go.

A. SOLOMONIDES
Sol, as our class athlete,
Has won renown and fame;
To him we give this football
So memories will never wane.

H. TARR
Henry needs this great big pill,
He tasted the product of his still,
Which made a hit at the Science Fair
With the judges who sampled his ware.

R. TETREAULT
Ron's the best-dressed lad in the class
Whose clothes are admired by every lass;
A charge plate for him so he will be
A popular model for all to see.

P. VON SUCK
A budding genius is our Phil;
His desire for science he aims to fulfill;
A test tube filled with liquid pink
Maybe, for him, a connecting link.

R. WHYNOCK
Richie Whynock is quite a fellow
Who makes many a girl's heart mellow;
For him, we have no plane, boat, or car,
But glasses to look at girls from afar.

As we complete our job of distributing these gifts
Amid sad farewells, your spirits they will lift,
And you'll hold close this day of fun
And cherish these memories of 1961.

GIFTS TO THE GIRLS

LORAN SAULNIER
GARRETT CUTLER

Walking on Crane's Beach one bright and sunny day, we saw a great big wooden box a-floating in the bay. We fished it out and brought it home, and much to our surprise, the gifts for the girls were there inside, right before our eyes.

H. ACHRAMOWICZ
Helen has a little blue car
In which she travels near and far;
We hope this gasoline she'll take
When she calls again on Mr. Blake.

B. BAKER
Becky is a happy girl
Whose laugh is very well known;
To her we give this little toy -
Laughing on key then she'll enjoy.

F. BALL
Frances is so patriotic
She'll want nothing idiotic;
So here's a flag that she may say,
"I pledge allegiance" all the day.

M. BARCLAY
Margaret is our smallest girl,
As bright and precious as a pearl;
We give to her this pair of stilts
To help her seem as tall as Wilt.

J. BENNETT
To JoAnn who likes a lot of fun,
We give this little squirt-gun;
Just in case she's told to be quiet,
This will help stave off a riot.

J. BLUNDA
Joanne's future is in Art;
She'll enjoy this little cart
Full of paints which she can use
For works of Art, but not abuse.

B. BOBOLA
To Betty Bobola, the little lass
Who is the baby of our class,
We give this cute little dolly
Which, like her, is very jolly.

E. BOKRON
Elaine always talks a lot,
But never seems to care;
We have a box of balloons
To keep her up in the air.

A. BOUDREAU
Arline is always so jolly
She'll enjoy this book of folly;
We hope she'll read it to the end,
And pass it along to a good friend.

J. BRIDGE
Jackie edits our school-paper;
She'll like this report of a recent caper
To fill the pages done so well
When the CUB runs her last farewell.

B. BROCKELBANK
Barbie's house is set on a hill;
The climb she must dislike;
To her goes a pair of hiking boots
So she'll not need a bike.

D. BURNHAM
Donna has a lot of spirit,
If you're near her, you can hear it,
But she can use this little alarm
To keep her tardiness from doing her harm.

G. CLEMENT
To Gail, who is always so quiet,
We give this horn to cause a riot;
We hope she'll make a little noise
To help to wake some sleeping boys.

R. CLEMENTS
Rosemary's first name could imply
That she likes flowers in good supply;
To make her future look just rosy
We give to her this little posie.

GIFTS TO THE GIRLS

E. CLOGSTON
Betty always loves to ride
Throughout the town and countryside;
We're very sure that she will like
This brand new, shiny, motor-bike.

J. COMEAU
To Judy who's a majorette,
And often has sore feet, we bet,
We give this pair of slippers gay,
We know she'll need them many a day.

S. DE PAOLA
To Susan who'll be married soon,
We give this brand new fork and spoon;
We'll add our very, very "best"
As they go into your hope-chest.

C. FITZ
To Carol who may at times seem sad,
We give these pills to make her glad,
So her smile will be ever bright,
And any problems work out right.

M. HAYES
Mae-Ellen, though she's very small,
Is very good at basket-ball;
She'll look good upon the courts
In these fancy athletic shorts.

S. HOLDA
To Sharon, who is our Class Saint,
We give this jar of bright red paint,
To do the town, or make a cover,
Her many talents we'll soon discover.

L. LABRIE
Though Linda is of French descent,
We're sure to France she never went;
So she may someday view Par-ee,
We give this ship to cross the sea.

J. MANSFIELD
To Joanne who plays in the band,
Her glockenspiel steady in her hand,
We offer this banner stating
Her work deserves a very high rating.

A. MILLER
To Ann whose friends number many,
We give this new and shiny penny,
The date will recall Class Day here
Until a reunion in some distant year.

D. ORSINI
Donna is a pretty girl
Like those from Italy;
We brought to her a dear, dear friend,
The well-known Chef Boyardee.

C. COLBURN
To Carolee, just for a joke,
We give this bottle of very warm coke
To remind her of the days she worked
Behind the counter as a soda-jerk.

S. DAVIS
Gentle Suzie, whom we call Moose,
Is kind and sweet and not obtuse;
To her we give these antlers wide,
Wherever she is, she can never hide.

L. EWING
To Lynda Ewing, our class clown,
Whose antics are known all over town,
We give this great big bag of fun
To spread around to everyone.

B. GAUTHIER
To Barbie who is often ill,
We give this dark, red, shiny pill,
And when she's really sufferin'
She'll receive some more with bufferin.

F. HAZEN
Florence is our Grandma Moses,
Who loves to draw from different poses;
Here is a model of a man
That you may paint, or have on hand.

D. JONES
For Diane who is so very blonde,
Here's a black curl for her to put on,
And in case it doesn't look right,
It can easily be detached at night.

N. MacLEOD
Norma, as you know, can dance,
And everybody she enchants;
So she will reach the highest mark,
Here's a contract with Dick Clark.

M. MICHON
Marcia is a bright, bright blonde,
And of her hair we're very fond;
But even more we enjoy her wit,
And know she'll enjoy this Scrabble kit.

E. NAPIER
To Edna who with chipmunks plays,
Though hasn't now for many days,
We give this needle to remind her
Of the pet she left behind her.

J. PARKER
Janet came here just last year,
And we give her this bottle of cheer,
As a reward for the friends she's won,
And all the days she's filled with fun.

K. PEARSON

To Kerry who's going away to school,
We give this helpful nurse's tool,
So she can aid the very sick,
On the way to recovery, ever so quick.

N. POOR

Poor Nancy, whose last name is Poor,
If fated by rhyme forever more;
We give her this shiny, new penny,
Hoping it will be the first of many.

A. RICHARD

To Arlene who will soon be wed,
To smooth the road that lies ahead,
We offer her this rolling pin,
So every battle she will win.

J. RYAN

Julie is an Irish lass,
She will like this green, dress sash
To wear on every St. Patrick's Day;
We hope it will make her feel tres gaie.

A. SMITH

Arlene's boy-friend is in college,
So she can use this book of knowledge;
We hope she'll read and study enough,
To confound him without too much bluff.

C. SOTIROPOULOS

Chris is a girl who likes to play
Basket-ball or baseball every day;
To her we give the key to the gym
So whene'er she wants, she can get in.

J. SULLIVAN

To Joanie, who is our Class Flirt,
(At that she is quite an expert),
We give this little, red date-book,
To fill with names she's overlooked.

C. WASS

Cynnie gives her car to Mark
Each and every day;
We give to her another one,
To set up a relay.

H. WRIGHT

Dena is the last one in our class,
She can use this little eye-glass
To keep an eye on those ahead,
And wish that she were there instead.

P. POIRIER

To Polly, our best-dressed lass,
(And one of the jolliest girls in the class),
We give this latest copy of VOGUE,
To plan for the newest college wardrobe.

C. PRICE

To Cynthia who sits in the lobby
Of the theatre, as a hobby,
We give what she's been waiting for -
A pass to get beyond the door.

N. ROBISHAW

Nancy worries that she's too fat,
And tries to eat like a kitty-cat;
To help her stay extra slim,
We give these cigarettes called "Trim."

B. SAROKA

Bernie could almost scream,
Serving all of that ice-cream;
She'll like her work much better now,
As we give to her White's dairy cow.

K. SMYTH

Karen Smyth is always singing,
In the snow or in the hail;
We have for her this little book,
HOW TO BE A NIGHTINGALE.

J. STONE

To Jane, whose laughter can be heard
Throughout the school and town,
We give this can of laughing gas
So her joy will never die down.

J. TRASK

To Janet, who rarely makes a sound,
We give this bongo drum to pound,
She'll be heard throughout the town,
Everybody will know when she's around.

M. WOODS

To Marilyn, who likes all sports,
We give this book of rules,
In memory of her high school days,
And for future use, in many ways.

And now our happy chore is done,
It's time for farewells to everyone;
These gifts we'll cherish on our way
As we remember our Class Day.

John Kelly - Mr. Hoffman

Although the football season was a poor one record-wise, the team provided many thrills and close games for the spectators.

Arthur Solomonides was the recipient of both the Hellenic Men's Club Most Valuable Player Award and the Most Popular Player Trophy.

John Kelly was presented the Hoffman Award in recognition of his accomplishments both on the gridiron and in the classroom.

The Class of 1961 wishes the best of luck to Captains-elect John Standley and John Los, and the entire football squad for a successful season next fall.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Basketball again proved to be the most popular girls' athletic activity. Miss Janet Gibbons, our new gym teacher and basketball coach, was largely responsible for the great popularity of girls' basketball.

The '61 Tigresses won only 4 of 11 games, but we are proud of them for their good sportsmanship and tremendous school spirit.

Although some veteran guards and forwards are graduating, we are sure next year's team will exemplify the best team spirit and we wish them a successful season.
